

Souvenir Ideas for Walt Disney World

Are you ready to do some shopping at Walt Disney World? I love to shop for unique souvenirs to bring home! My favorite stores on Disney property are The Emporium at Magic Kingdom Park, CREATIONS at EPCOT, and The World of Disney at Disney Springs. Plus, there are so many unique treasures to be found in the World Showcase pavilions for each country!

I've put together a list of our favorite souvenirs, and I hope you and your family find something awesome, too!

1. Etched glasses from Arribas. You can find Arribas at Disney Springs. It's a shop full of glass, so keep that in mind if you have littles shopping with you! Each member of our family has his or her own etched glass mug from this shop. Our name is on the front and a favorite character is on the other side.
2. Christmas ornaments from Disney's Days of Christmas. Each of our children choose an ornament with either Mickey or Minnie on it, and my husband and I have one that is gold with Mickey ears on it. My goal is, each year, to add to our ornament collection so in a few years, we'll have memorable ornaments and can have a small Disney Christmas tree.
3. Picture Frames. I have a 5x7 Disney Parks photo frame. It gets a new photo in it each year after we return from our trip. You'll have some great Disney photos, so a frame would be a really good idea.
4. Disney jewelry. At The World of Disney, you can find beads for Pandora charm bracelets. A Cinderella's Coach or Minnie/Mickey heads can add some fun to your bracelets. My all time favorite is the Alex and Ani Disney collection. I just love those!
5. Mickey ears, Autograph books and pin lanyards. Monogrammed Mickey ears and autograph books have become some of our kids' favorite mementos. Also, older kids may enjoy pin trading. Pin trading can be a fun, ongoing, souvenir.
